Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract is not in a separate sheet. Proper correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being anticipated by Bureau et al., (DE 10156944 A1). Bureau et al., disclose a method for controlling evaporation temperature in an air conditioning system, in particular a vehicle air conditioning system, having a latent refrigerant accumulator which can be cooled by an evaporator, with the evaporation temperature of a refrigerant evaporator being set as a function of demand to a value between a minimum temperature and maximum temperature which is below a phase change temperature of the latent medium (as disclose by the applicant in specification page 1, last Para and second page first Para). Bureau et al., disclose the invention substantially as claimed as stated above except water. The air in place of water, the physical construction and the cooling procedure obviously meet the invention.
